City Teen Center In Chamber Study

COMMITTEE TO REVIEW PROPOSAL

Cameron Chamber directors Monday voted to appoint a steering committee to study the possibilities of a Teen Center in Cameron.

President John B. Henderson Jr. led a discussion of directors on the subject in an hour-long directors session at Cameron Chamber Board Room.

Allen Dodson, chairman of the Chamber poultry committee, reported the annual broiler show and contest would be Saturday, May 20, followed by an awards banquet that evening. The show will be in the Dusek Bldg., on East First St.

He urged sponsors to visit growers competing in the program.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS

James Camp, chairman of the civic improvement committee, advised civic improvements goals would be to replace and remodel "Welcome to Cameron" signs around the city limits of the city. And he said efforts would be made to work on a tourism project.

Albert McCullin Jr. noted that Cameron Feed Center had joined the membership and that 171 firms and individuals are in the organization. Efforts, he said, would be made to keep memberships current during the year.

NEW BROCHURE

Rev. James Lafferty, chairman of the publicity committee, noted that work was planned on a new brochure for the City.

Frank Luecke, chairman of the tourism committee, noted plans for locating a log cabin museum-information center in Cameron, coupled with brochure publication of historic points of interest in Cameron and throughout the county. A search is underway for a large, stable log cabin for the Cameron site.

Cameron has been listed in the East Texas Chamber's fourth annual "The Heritage Trail", noting several points of interest for tourists in Cameron.

Copies of tourist maps would be distributed through service stations and restaurants.

Here's 10 Points Of Historic Note

Think a minute, or an hour if you like: "What are 10 of the most historic sites in Milam County?"

Having done that, compare it with 10 of top interest according to Milam Historian Mary Belle Batte.

Among 60 historic points in Milam County, she found these more significant:

ONE—The Shap Ross house, formerly in Cameron City Park. Sul Ross, a governor of Texas, was born there. And a plaque is going up there from the Texas Historical Association.

TWO—The George Green house, The Sycamores north of Cameron, where another plaque donated by the family will commemorate the house built by the early surveyor of Cameron and a signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence.

THREE—Bryant Station, named for Major Benjamin Bryant, who fought in the Texas Revolution and was trader appointed by Sam Houston.

FOUR—Old Nashville, dating from the 1830's, jumping off place into the Milam Land District and now extinct except for a cemetery, one of the oldest in Central Texas.

FIVE—Post Massacre Site, five men wiped out by Indians in 1835 who were headed for Old Nashville.

SIX—Elm Creek Fight Site, where 14 Rangers fought 100 Indians to a standoff, saving early settlements in the area.

SEVEN—The McCown house, now the Bob Lamkin home, dating from the 1840's and near the Steam Boat marker at Little River where the last landing was made in the 1850's.

EIGHT—The Missions of San Xavier, San Ildefonso and Candelaria, a four and one-half mile area near present day San Gabriel, dating from 1742, more than 30 years before the American Revolution.

NINE—Port Sullivan, the northern most landing place on the Brazos River, all but unidentifiable, once a thriving river boat stop.

TEN—Oxsheer Cemetery, one of the oldest, best preserved family cemeteries near Hanover. Others include the Cameron Community Cemetery on US 77 East, and the Little River Cemetery (Church), also being designated for a plaque by Texas Historical Association.

Take your pick. Miss Batte has 60 major points annotated, many of them resumes of communities in the county which are all but no more, but historical.

How does your list compare?

THIRD IN STATE - Cameron's Wayne Kirk placed third in State Class AA discus with a 153-2 toss Friday night. This was the first state meet for the Yoe High School junior. Paul Chandler, also a Yoe High junior, ran 7th in the one-mile run at Austin Saturday but did not place.

With F.M.L.

Saw a film about Will Rogers the other night.

How is it his coarse words can refine? They can be said just often enough to rub their subjects' gram true.

Will Rogers was that way. He had an Oklahoma whang and a universal gift to whang words home with.

Will claimed to be a clown. But actors, the best, acknowledge that humor, original humor, is the most difficult. And it is but a few facial contortions to pathos.

The cowboy-philosopher came into fashion with the flapper era. After 1929, he salvaged a nation's grin by joshing the giants and propping up the men in breadlines. He made them laugh at pathos.

Al Capp, the cartoonist, recently told a TV interviewer that Art Buchwald, the columnist, exceeds Rogers at his folksy best. But Al misses a point by a generation.

Art looks good in print from a Washington or Paris dateline. But how many pomposities stay punctured or how many believe in more than his words?

Will's folksiness is corn now. But it is amazing how apt his colloquialisms are.

Somehow, a man in print stands firmer when his feet are on the ground his subjects walk on.

C. P. Snow, the British physicist-novelist, recently told a newspaper interviewer: "..... in the world we live in morality is linked up closely with the life of action. You cannot live a full justified existence unless you have spent some time in action....."

Snow speaks of Will's type of action, not Art's observation of action nor the swinger's type of "action."

Will Rogers had no intention of being a columnist or philosopher. Yet, he was both. And he was a pulse, not a pulsetaker.

Will's commitment is "gauche" now, but it is still right.....and funny.....and humble.

108-108-108

Herman Henniger, farmer at Bushdale, immortalized himself by erecting a life-size statue in Bushdale Cemetery in a Union Army uniform with the inscription recording he had been a "late and honorable member of Company B of the 12th Regiment of the Illinois Cavalry."

Miss Mary Belle Batte, doing history research for the Cameron Chamber, came up with the facts. She is president of the Milam Historical Society and Milam County History Committee.

Police Car Bid . . .

Tourism, Paving Studied

The Cameron City Council Monday night appointed a tourist site committee, awarded low bid for a new police car and announced plans to review the 100-block city paving program.

A tentative dedication date of June 24 was also set for Cameron Airpark.

In a short meeting, Mayor Bassel Wilson named Councilmen John Hays, R. W. Wells and Lester Turner to a committee to work with the Cameron Chamber tourism committee.

A site in the City Park system is being considered for placement of a historic log cabin for a tourist information center-museum.

POLICE CAR BIDS

The Council awarded a low bid of $2,000 from Schiller Motor Co. for a 1967 police car. Other bids were: Woodum Auto Sales, $2,243.80; Hefley-Stedman Motor Co., $2,049.00; and Economy Chevrolet, $2,029.76.

A meeting with representatives of Texas Securities Co. and Joe J. Rady, Inc., consulting engineers, is scheduled 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Councilmen will discuss the plans for a proposed 100-block paving program throughout reidential areas of North and Northeast Cameron.

Tom Anderlitch, of Texas Securities, the San Antonio finance specialists, and Ed Apel, engineer with Joe J. Rady, Fort Worth engineer consultants, will explain plans drawn up for the proposed project.

TENTATIVE DATE

The June 24 was a tentative date agreed upon by councilmen as a date to work toward an official opening of the Airpark facility, now all but completed. Work continues on the Reception Bldg. where airport offices and pilot and passenger reception room will be located. The opening date is still tentative, however.

Special air mail stamps and envelopes will be sent out the day of the opening, commemorating the occasion, Councilman John Hays said.

Councilmen Hays, Wells and Turner will be meeting with members of the Chamber tourist committee to review plans involving city property.

GRAZING ASSOC. STILL PLANNING, IVEY REPORTS

Newest addition to the Milam Farmers Home Administration loan family is the Grazing Association, still in the planning stages.

County Supervisor Henry N. Ivey notes that 762 families have benefited through six loans of $513,400 for water facilities and one recreation loan in Thorndale.

Planning for the Grazing Association is moving right along, Ivey says, with ample grazing land already located in the county.

Five water facility loans have been the forerunners of other improvements in Milano, Minerva, Baileyville, North Milam area and Gause, Ivey emphasizes.

Minerva and Gause water systems have added a number of new customers due to new residents moving into their communities The North Milam project is planning an extension with a subsequent loan, permitting more service to more people with additional income for loan repayment.

Additional water facility loans have been approved for Marlow and Branchville and are to be constructed in the near future. Others are in planning stages.

Ivey says that a lot of potential remains for association loans for community improvement through FHA.

Sponsors for the feature length film is the Cameron Council of Church Women.

Apparent Strike At Joe Martin Well

One apparent new discovery and one failure marked Milam County's oil activity last week.

The Luling Oil and Gas Company No. 1 Joe Martin at last report was waiting on cement after pipe had been set to 2,852 feet. This wildcat is a Navarro try, permitted to 3,600 feet and was drilled to 3,550 feet.

The Martin is located on a 50 acre lease in S. Vincent Survey six miles south of Milano and less than a mile from the Lee County line. It is about one-half mile east, northeast of an old deep wildcat drilled by General Crude Oil Company in 1958 which was plugged back to the Navarro and reportedly completed as a 21 barrel per day producer.

The failure last week was the Shell Oil Company No. 2 Adoue Estate, deep wildcat in east Milam which Shell finally plugged.

The No. 2 Adoue was spudded in October, 1966 and scheduled as a Smackover test, but had to be given up as a deep try when it encountered trouble from a stuck drill pipe near total depth of 14,622 feet. Plugged back in an attempt to complete it in the Austin Chalk between 5,738 - 848 feet, it reportedly produced only about 10 percent oil on test, despite acidation, swabbing and sand-frac treatment by the drilling crew.

Milam County Residents Asked To Help Solve Name Origins Mystery

Residents of Milam County were asked this week to help solve the mystery of the origins of several geographical names found on county maps. Information will be welcomed by Dr. Fred Tarpley, Department of English, East Texas State University, Commerce, Texas.

The information is needed for a dictionary of Texas place names, including Milam and the other 253 counties, to be published soon by the East Texas State University press. Before Dr. Tarpley, professor of English at the university, submits his final manuscript, he is appealing to county residents for assistance in contributing information about several names with unexplained origins.

With the following exceptions, the reasons for the choice of approximately 200 names found on detailed maps of the county have already been determined: Alligator Creek, Bailey Oil Field, Bee Branch, Belmena, Branchville, Browns Cemetery, Buer Branch, Caddo, Cameron Air Field, Camp Air Field, Clarkson, Coffield Air Field, Coxes Providence, Detmold, Ferguson Branch.

Also: Forest Grove, Foster Branch, Handy Community, Hendricks Branch, Heyte Church, Hopewell, Houston-Oklahoma Oil Field, Hoyte, Jess Hood Creek, Lake Alcoa, Lawson, Liberty Hill, Lilac Church, Lipan Creek, Majorie, Morning Star, Mt. Zion, New Hope, Newton Lakes, Phillips, Pole Cat Creek, Praesel, Salem, South Elm Creek, Splawn, Sugarloaf Mountain, Swanzy Branch, Vineville.

Dr. Tarpley, who started his research on Texas geographical names five years ago, has exhausted material available to him in history books, newspaper files, student research, and interviews with county leaders. He is hoping that the story behind the naming of the communities, creeks, and other geographical sites listed above can be explained before his book goes to press.

Any information should be sent to Dr. Tarpley, not to The Herald.

Tribute To Heroes In Dan Kubiak's 'Ten Tall Texans'

Tribute to four patriots of Latin descent is offered in "Ten Tall Texans", written by Daniel James Kubiak. The book, published by The Naylor Company of San Antonio, describes the backgrounds of ten men who contributed to the winning of Texas' independence.

The four who fought against their own people were Lorenzo de Zavala, Jose Antonio Navarro, Andrea Castanon Candelaria, and Juan N. Seguin. "Too few Texans know of the tremendous contributions of these patriots," says Mr. Kubiak.

The six other patriots -- Sam Houston, Stephen F. Austin, Ben Milam, David Crockett, James (Jim) Bowie, and William B. Travis -- are described against the true backgrounds in which they lived, fought, and died.

A native of Marlin, Daniel Kubiak is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Kubiak of Rockdale. Formerly a teacher in Vernon, he is now football coach and math instructor at Cypress-Fairbanks High School near Houston.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

Anglers have found this to be an excellent year for white bass fishing. Every major Texas lake has provided whites by the thousands.

White bass probably have done more to increase the fishing interest in more people than all other fish combined. It is a fish anyone can catch and often in great numbers.

This is not to say the white bass will ever supplant the largemouth black bass, or even the Kentucky spotted. But it is a fish that isn't as likely to disappoint you on the only day in the month you can get out.

As plentiful as they are and as easy as they are to take, some degree of skill, plus a little luck, is necessary if you want to come in with a "bragging" string.

I have two friends who fish for whites regularly and most of the time they catch white bass until they get tired.

Although much of their fishing is on the Highland Lakes, within easy driving distance of Austin, they also have fished most of the other major impoundments with equal success.

Their own system is fairly simple, because they have fished so much they know the alternatives. They know in what kind of water the fish are to be found, and basically the lure the bass will take. Mainly, however, they know to change lures when one won't work, until they find the one that will.

In terms of its availability in Texas waters, the white bass is a comparatively new fish. Although it has been on the Mississippi watershed and around the Great Lakes for a long time, the white bass in great abundance in Texas dates back less than 35 years. It might be said they came with the new major lake construction program in Texas. People learned to fish 'em when the tackle industry developed such equipment as light action rods and either spinning or free-spooling reels.

White bass moved up the Red River from the Mississippi basin into Caddo Lake many years ago. About 1930, with completion of the Lake Dallas reservoir near Denton, 30 brood white bass were moved there. It wasn't long until these prolific breeders practically filled the lake, working up the Elm east fork of the Trinity, making it a fishing paradise even before World War II.

Tourist Development Meeting In Waco

"Community effort in tourist development" will be the main theme of a County Historical Survey Committee regional meeting in Waco, May 18. Miss Mary Belle Batte, chairman of the Milam County Historical Survey Committee as well as committee members have been invited to represent their county at the meeting.

Among topics to be discussed is the governor's new proposal calling for designation of a state-wide system of "Recreational, Scenic and Historic Roadways." Connally said the basic idea for the roadways is: "To guide tourists off high-speed expressways and into our byways. This would encourage tourists to stay longer and Texas would benefit from the increased revenue."

Participating in the meeting will be Phil Davis, community relations chief, Texas Tourist Development Agency. Davis will make a presentation on "HemisFair '68" and give pointers on what local communities can do to attract tourists during 1968, which in Davis' words, "promises to be the biggest year for tourism in the state's history."

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

—By—

J. D. MOORE

Authorities have changed their recommendations for stocking and managing a tank for maximum fish production, according to Wallace Klussmann, wildlife specialist from A&M, who gave the program last week at the farm tank meeting. "We do not need a mixture of fishin o rder to keep a balance," said the specialist. "If you like to fish for bass, stock bass. If you like catfish, stock catfish."

Klussmann said that catfish are scavengers and do not feed on other small fish while bass feed on sight and like to eat any small fish -- in fact they will eat their own young.

He pointed out that if properly managed, you could stock your tank with bass and catfish. However, stock it with catfish in the fall and wait until the following spring to stock with bass. This will allow the catfish to grow out of danger of being eaten by the bass.

For fertilizing the tank, start with an application of 100 pounds of a 20-20-5 fertilizer when the temperature of the water reaches 60 degrees F. Follow the initial application with smaller ones of 20 to 40 pounds of fertilizer until a desirable plankton bloom is attained. This is one that shades out a bright object at about 18 inches below the surface. A common shiny tin can lid attached to the end of a stick can be used to make determination. Stop applications by June 1 to 15.

Most algae plants can be controlled by using Bluestone. Floating plants such as Duckweed and Watermeal may be controlled by using ¾ gallon of Diquat per surface acre. Rooted plants with floating leaves may be controlled by using 2,4-D mixtures.

For all immersed plants, use 2' pounds of 80 percent Karmex per surface acre. Klussmann suggests that Karmex be applied on a clear day with a good wind to facilitate a supply of oxygen for the fish.

In other business at the meeting, Henry Ivey, FHA Supervisor and chairman of the county T.A.P. Committee, told the group that an inventory was being compiled to show recreational potentials for Milam County. The report is favorable.

"Broke Farmers" Cannot Produce Abundance, Warns Cong. Poage

Cong. W. R. Poage, Chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, said Friday night that prices received by farmers have dropped to the lowest level in 33 years, in relation to the rest of the economy, and he warned that "broke farmers cannot continue to produce our present abundance."

Addressing the New York Commodity Club, Poage said that farm prices dropped 10 percent between last August and April 15, 1967. The parity ratio dipped in April to 72 percent and now stands at the lowest figure for any month since 1934.

"During the past 20 years the hourly earnings of industrial workers have increased by 123 percent and corporate dividends are up 232 percent," he said. "During the same period the average of farm prices is actually down 11 percent."

Poage told the club members, who deal in agricultural commodities, that it was not lack of "know-how" on the farmers' part that would keep them from producing at their present abundant level but lack of money.

"Americans actually spend only 18 percent of their income in the grocery store, and nearly two-thirds of what the housewife looks upon as food money goes, not to the farmer, but for transportation, processing, packaging, labor, distribution, and other costs that are reflected in retail grocery prices," he said.

He urged that the facts about agriculture be placed before consumers. "I think the American consumer is much more knowledgeable and much more willing to pay a fair price than some of us have assumed," he said.

"The only way to guarantee abundance of food and fiber in the years ahead is to increase the income of farmers to such an extent that they can buy all of the needed inputs to assure production at all times sufficient for our needs and to maintain the world's highest standard of living.

"Your very survival is involved in the continued flow of commodities," he told the club members.

Poage concluded: "None of us want a return to price fixing. I invite and urge each of you to join in the support of government policies and programs aimed at lifting farm income."

'Friends' Ends Season . . .

The "Friends of the Library" season ended this week, but its contribution at a critical first-year operation of new Cameron Public Library has been most helpful.

Money from "Friends" has enabled Cameron Public Library to operate a full 40-hour week, six days that allows access two evenings a week and Saturday.

"Friends" meetings have introduced groups meeting for literary or educational purposes to the library that might have taken years to encompass otherwise.

The response to the "Friends" idea, finally, amazed its organizers. It was in part a spontaneous "thanks" for efforts to bring first-rate library facilities to Cameron.

A "Friends" program is planned next year. And its value will be the more enduring for the people it continues to introduce to the library facilities and the books they finally are encouraged to read.

Metal Gets Around . . .

Milam County's major industry produces a product that literally sails the seas. The largest aluminum sailboat in the world, an 82-footer, is built of Alcoa aluminum. Such crafts are traditionally of wood.

But tradition is changing in sail - boats too. The craft is named the Benyondan and is sailing Lake Michigan. It takes a 540 horsepower diesel engine to power it, according to "the Rockdale Ranger," Alcoa Rockdale Works publication.

The lignite of Milam County fuels the pots which cook the ore of Arkansas and Surinam for shining ingot which becomes a boat off the shores of Wisconsin.

This metal really gets around.

HOSPITALS OPEN FOR PUBLIC TOUR

Cameron hospitals are being spotlighted this week as "Cities of Care" as communities through the nation observe National Hospital Week, May 7-13.

St. Edward Hospital and Newton Memorial Hospital employ 75 area residents for people-to-people service to sick and injured on a 24-hour-a-day, 7-day-a-week schedule. Hospital administrators point out that nearly two million Americans work in the nation's 7000 registered hospitals.

The public is invited to tour facilities at the Newton Memorial Hospital which was built in 1962 and St. Edward Hospital where plans are in progress for a new one-million facility.

Mayor Bassel Wilson officially designated the week as a City observance with the following proclamation:

PROCLAMATION
OUR COMMUNITY HOSPITALS
"CITIES OF CARE"

WHEREAS, our hospitals are committed to the goal of making available to all the people of the community the best health care; and

WHEREAS, our hospitals -- "Cities of Care" are peopled with dedicated employees, each devoting their untiring efforts to restoring the sick and injured to health; and

WHEREAS, our hospitals look to their partnership with the community to provide the best possible program of health care for all our citizens;

BE IT RESOLVED that this community, in recognition of National Hospital Week, May 7 - 13, salutes its hospitals for their round-the-clock dedicated service to the sick and injured, guarding the nation's health.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, BASSEL WILSON, AS MAYOR OF CAMERON, do hereby designate the week of May 7 - 13, 1967, as HOSPITAL WEEK in CAMERON and urge all citizens to visit their hospitals to learn of the dedicated men and women whose hands and skills contribute so much to the good health we enjoy.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 8th day of May, 1967.

Redistricting Bills Ready For House

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Redistricting bills are ready for test votes in the House.

A court reapportionment measure which would add 16 courts, eliminate two and provide for district realignment, was reported favorably by the House Committee on Judicial Districts.

Bill would provide two new courts each for Dallas, Harris, Bexar and Tarrant Counties. Single courts would go to these districts: Hidalgo County, 200th District; Comal and Guadalupe Counties, 201st District; Duval, Jim Hogg, Zapata and Starr Counties, 202nd District; Randall County, 203rd District; Collin County, 204th District; Gregg County, 205th District; Crockett, Schleicher, Menard, Sutton, Kimble, Edwards, Real, Kerr and Bandera Counties, 206th District; and Wharton, Fort Bend, Matagorda and Brazoria Counties, 66th District.

It would combine district courts serving Hill and Freestone Counties with other counties. It provides for abolishing the 88th District Court, effective January 1, 1970, and the 82nd District Court, effective January 1, 1971.

Candidates for the new judgeships would run for office next year, taking over on January 1, 1969.

A congressional redistricting bill, required by an order of the federal court, is complete. But it has been held back due to controversies.

Congressional redistricting as drawn by the House Committee would require no incumbent congressmen to run against another incumbent. Committee Chairman Gus Mutscher of Brenham said the bill would carve 23 new districts which vary no more than five percent in population.

Mutcher indicated that the redistricting measure for House seats is virtually complete and will follow congressional reapportionment by about 10 days.

HORSES GALLOP AGAIN -- In less time than it takes a fast stepping thoroughbred to romp a mile, the House Committee on Counties approved, on a local-option basis, a bill to legalize pari-mutuel horse race betting in Texas.

House sponsors said they are not sure when they will ask for a floor vote.

Here's what the House bill proposes: Racing would be permitted in counties where voters want it, with 85 percent of the betting pools going to betters, two percent to counties where tracks are operated and 13 percent to be split between the state and the track operators. State would, in turn, divide half of its share (on a population basis) among the counties having no tracks. Bookmaking and off-track betting with bookies would be made a felony.

Senate bill has been out of committee since February but, so far, the sponsors haven't brought it to a floor test.

"OPEN MEETINGS" -- A bill to outlaw closed-door meetings of government agencies passed the Senate unanimously.

However, an amendment would exempt departments, agencies and political subdivisions not supported by or spending tax funds.

Misdemeanor fines are provided for violations, and "any interested person" may launch court action for mandamus or injunction against closed meetings.

Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena handled the measure in the Senate. It now goes to the House where Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville is sponsor.

REVISION PLANS ADVANCED House overwhelmingly passed a resolution proposing a method of state constitutional revision. A 20-member commission assist3d by a 20-member citizens advisory committee would report recommendations to the next Legislature for submission to voters.

Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria is author of the House resolution.

Senate State Affairs Committee approved a bill to establish a 45-member constitutional revision commission. Under this bill, by Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston, the commission would be limited mainly to recommendations. It would offer suggestions to the Legislature for eliminating obsolete and repetitive sections.

POLLUTION BILLS CLEARED- House passed the Senate bill to strengthen water pollution control and establish a new Texas Water Quality Board as a separate agency. Amendments will send the bill back to the Senate.

Meanwhile, the Senate has approved a bill to provide the mechanism for enforcing air pollution control measures. An amendment would allow the Air Control Board to set different standards for agricultural processors (including cotton gins) than are set for industries.

GRANT APPROVED -- U.S. Public Health Service has approved a $315,659 grant to Texas for a statewide immunization program.

Funds will be used for immunization campaigns in cooperation with local health agencies and medical societies against measles, polio, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. Project will continue through April 30, 1968. An additional year has been tentatively provided for with a $325,000 grant. Supplemental budget of $35,775 for polio vaccine has been requested.

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY -- House and Senate both have passed the compromise occupational safety bill. It now awaits Gov. John Connally's signature.

As finally passed, the bill is a compromise among labor, management and the governor. It would create a Division of Occupational Safety as a part of the State Department of Health.

DOS would have the power to make and enforce rules and regulations on safety, plus authority to inspect places of employment. A qualified safety engineer would be hired to administer the program.

REGULATE RAINMAKERS -- Senate has passed and sent to the House a licensing bill to regulate weather modifiers -- or would be modifiers -- under the Texas Water Development Board.

Apparently the bill is aimed more at encouraging research and development in the field of legitimate weather modifying than at bogus rainmakers.

Board would be given full control over the entire field of water modifying including annual licensing and permits.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

I was cleaning out a stack of old newspapers which had accumulated in a corner of my work room here and while I was at it the thought occurred, why not clean out some of the old ideas which have stacked up in a corner of my mind, so I thought I would. I will send them to you and you can stack them in some corner somewhere around your office, or throw them out entirely. I'm through with them.

For example, here's one: man is taking the long way around to blow up cities. Instead of developing missiles that'll hurtle halfway around the earth and come down on top of a city, why not drill holes through the earth to fire rockets through and let them explode underneath? Avoid air pollution that way.

Or, why hasn't some insurance company come out with a policy to insure you against not being able to make enough money to pay for the policies you already have?

Los Angeles now has 7 million people and 4 million cars. It's predicted that in a couple of decades it'll have 14 million people and 28 milion cars. Ought to be a fine place to find parts for a second-hand car.

I heard a politician in Washington on "Meet The Press" say he was just a country boy trying to get along. Don't city boys ever try to get along?

Casius Clay says he'd rather farm than fight. I'd advise him to wait till his first crop is in before he decides permanently.

How do you get in touch with the company that makes phonograph records to pay off your debts with?

Since every President nowadays has to have a Presidential Library erected when he retires, have you ever stopped to think how many libraries this country will have 10,000 years from now?

If we get two tax increases for every tax cut, how long will it take a frog to get out of a well?

I could go on, but I'll finish my cleaning some other day.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Dear Mr. Luecke:

Taxpayers in the Austin District again met the challenge of automatic data processing for the second year running. The great majority of returns were complete and accurately prepared. Especially appreciated was the excellent cooperation in filing refund returns directly with the Service Center.

Our deep thanks to you and your staff for a grand job of getting tax information to folks in your area. Particularly helpful was your use of our question and answer column.

Congratulations on such an effective service to the public.

Sincerely,

When you look for the most room and the smoothest ride and the best value, you'll end up with a Chevrolet wagon everytime.

Chevrolet Impala, roomiest in its class. While extra roominess is perhaps the best reason for buying a Chevrolet wagon, consider, also, these bonuses: Body by Fisher, Chevrolet dependability, flush-and-dry rocker panels and Magic-Mirror finish. Chevelle Malibu, smoother, quieter ride. A Malibu not only gives you a Full Coil suspension ride, but the body mountings are double-cushioned. And Chevelle carries plenty. It opens wide. 54.6 inches, to be exact, 28.5 inches high. Flip the second seat down and you've got 86 cubic feet of cargo space for all your gear. Chevelle was built to take a lot. Chevy II Nova, best equipped for the money. All-vinyl upholstery is standard. Flush-and-dry rocker panels that clean themselves are standard. Separate panels beneath each fender to inhibit rust are standard. Mono-Plate rear suspension to smooth the ride is standard. Price? Below standard.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Customs may differ among the races and may change with the times, but certain institutions in human life have remained constant through the centuries. One of these is Motherhood.

Progress has given Mother new methods and new equipment for her age-old responsibilities. But the love and understanding which are the heart of Motherhood have never depended on science for their expression.

One unchanging sphere of material responsibility has been the religious development of children. From primitive tribal religions up to Christianity, mothers have guided and encouraged the growth of each successive generation in spiritual faith.

The Christian Church salutes all faithful mothers. They have led their families to an ever deepening realization of the sacred bond which unites the Church and the Home in a common devotion to Jesus Christ.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Instant Justice

Back in frontier days, a stern judge in Ohio used to keep a live bomb on the floor of the jury room. When he sent the jurors in to deliberate, he would call their attention to the fuse leading outside of the room.

"Bring me a verdict in five minutes," he would thunder, "or by heaven I will light the fuse!"

Needless to say, his jurors didn't dawdle. And it is still true today that jurors, even though not spurred on so persuasively, sometimes do bring in their verdict fast.

Quiet naturally doubts may arise. Did they really give fair consideration to the evidence? Can a trial that lasts for days be decided in minutes? Time and again, a person who has been found guilty of a crime will raise such questions by appealing to a higher court for a new trial.

But almost invariably, the court has ruled that speed alone does not prove that the verdict was unfair. For, after all, there are perfectly sensible reasons why a jury, while conscientiously doing its duty, may still bring in a speedy verdict. Thus:

When a jury took only eight minutes to convict a man of drunk driving, the court found nothing improper—because there was just one simple issue for the jurors to decide.

And when a jury took only an hour to convict a man of tax fraud, the court found nothing improper—because a lopsided preponderance of evidence pointed to guilt.

In other words, the law does not insist on long, drawn-out deliberations just to make the verdict "look good."

But there is another side to the matter. The law does insist that, when jurors feel the need to go slow, they should not be high-pressured into hurrying.

For example:

The jurors in a murder case, deadlocked for almost seven hours, reached a verdict in short order—after the trial judge hinted that he might hold them in contempt if they did not agree.

This verdict, on appeal, was thrown out. The appellate court warned:

"If a trial judge is permitted to coerce a jury into a verdict, then the value of the system of trial by jury is at an end."
